Nine Richland Students To Attend 'Science Youth Day'

Students that are interested in "Science Youth Day," being held Friday, February 9th, should be getting their applications in soon. The announcement of who the lucky students are will be made around Jan. 25th.

Full Day Workshop

Eight students, one teacher, and one reporter from SANDSTORM will report to the Federal Building Auditorium at 8:30 a.m. There students will be orientated, which will follow a general tour of laboratory facilities.

Individual Work with Scientists

In the afternoon, students will individually work with one scientist to see what he does, for the rest of the day. The student may pick what type of scientist he would like to work with. The different choices are: biology, physics, chemistry, metallurgy, mathematics, data processing (computers), and electronics.

23 Schools, 192 Students

The reason only eight students may attend is because there are twenty-three other schools being invited, so eight students from each school would make 192 students in all.

"Workday in science" is the theme of this event which is being held in honor of Tom Edison's birthday.

Mr. Hubbard, Chairman of the Col-Hi science department, seemed surprised that more people hadn't already signed up.

Applicants will be judged by their math teacher's recommendations and their reasons for wanting to go.

NHS To Hold Chili Feed

There will be a chili and homemade pie dinner sponsored by the members of the National Honor Society January 20, 1968. It will be held in the cafeteria from 5 to 7 o'clock, and the cost will be one dollar per person. Pies will be made by the members of NHS.

NHS would like to make this an annual function. The idea for the dinner was taken from a pancake breakfast one Portland high school had recently. Everyone is invited but there is only enough chili for 500 people, so be sure to get there early. The proceeds will be going towards scholarships.

New Events Highlight Tolo

Girls' League most important event of the year is only a month away. Tolo, which will be held during the week of Washington's birthday, will include at least one new activity this year.

All the activities have not been planned yet, but there will probably be a carnival. The Girls' League Mixer will be February 21, but the date for the movie has not been decided upon yet. The dance on Saturday, February 24, will end the activities.

The theme for the dance is "Night of Knights," and decorations will be based on a Camelot theme. A draw bridge will be used, and red, black, and silver will be the colors used to transform the gym.

Kathy George, decorations chairman, plans to have a meeting early next week and everyone is invited to attend. A lot of boys will be needed to help decorate next month, Kathy explained.

Karen Ingalsbe, who is in charge of activities, said, "I need lots and lots of kids to help with the activities. I need a chairman for the dance and the carnival, and more people to work on these committees." Karen would like to have everyone wear a hat or buttons one day during the week (which will be announced), instead of the traditional color.

BEARDED Mr. Blankenship happily accepts his KORD apple for the honor of "Teacher of the Day."

KORD Names Blankenship 'Teacher Of The Day'

By Joyce Gray and Bob Avant
Last Monday Mr. Bob Blankenship received the honor of being KORD radio's "Teacher of the Day." The U.S. History teacher was much surprised by this award.

When asked if he felt he deserved the award, Mr. Blankenship modestly replied, "I have no idea."

In searching for the reason why his students thought Mr. Blankenship was the best, he was asked about his philosophy of teaching. He replied, "For all teachers, our prime purpose is to do the best we can for students. My main goal is that students learn to think for themselves."

This is Mr. Blankenship's sixth year at Col-Hi and he has seen the passing of many students. He was questioned about what type of student he preferred. He answered, "I have never found a student I would not want to have in my class. Each student is an individual and we should think of him as an individual."

In many things it's the second effort that means the difference between success and failure, according to Mr. Blankenship. "Teaching is no exception," he said.

When quizzed as to whether he feels that a teacher owes more to his students than just teaching one subject, Mr. Blankenship stated, "I think I do. History cannot be taught by itself. A person must look at science and the humanities too, because they are all interrelated."

As to the timeliness of current events, Mr. Blankenship feels that even events a few days old should be discussed, because history might change the decision of a president or a prime minister.

The honor of being named "Teacher of the Day" is just one way of students saying, "Thank-you, Mr. Blankenship, for your dedication to us!"

Advanced Choir Sponsors Col-Hi Talent Show

Do you have any particular talent you would like to exhibit to the Col-Hi student body? If so, you may be able to show off and win a prize at the same time if you try out for the Col-Hi Talent Show sponsored by the Advanced Choir.

Any Col-Hi student is eligible to try out on either Thursday, Jan. 18th, Monday, Jan. 22, or Tuesday, Jan. 23. The Talent Show will be presented Thursday, Feb. 1st.

The first prize will be a $25 bond, but the second and third prizes have not been decided on as yet. The admission prices are 75c for adults and 40c for students. The proceeds will go to the Advanced Choir, to buy music with, and for the two scholarships the Advanced Choir gives each year.

General Chairman of the Talent Show is Angele Arnalte. She is assisted by Marlene Green, Malinda White, Byron Mumford, Mary Nechodom and Mike Furner. Mr. Johnson, student teacher, is directing the show along with Angele. The people who try out for the talent show will be screened by a selection committee consisting of Mr. Johnson, Angele Arnalte, Connie Simons and Marlene Green.

Everyone is urged to participate to make the 1968 Talent Show a truly enjoyable event.

As the Bombers travel out-of-town this weekend and each preceding weekend, show your support by buying the Letterman's Club National Honor Society ribbons for only a dime. Bomber Bumper stickers are also still on sale at the girls' gym for a quarter, by Pep Club.

Shari Johnson Selected As January Girl Of The Month

Shari Johnson, who was chosen the January Girls' League "Girl of the Month" for the quality of loyalty, claims "Loyalty is being in a club to help the other members and the club, not just being there for pictures." She also stated, "Loyalty is something that's sincere; you can't make it, it's just there."

Pep Club President

Shari shows her loyalty and willingness to help by being active as President of Pep Club, a member of the World Friends Committee, Executive Council of Girls' League, Drill Team, Girl's Stater, Candy Strippers, National Honor Society, and she was awarded the Masonic Citizenship Award last year.

Pacific Lutheran Awaits Shari
Future plans for Shari include college at the Pacific Lutheran University, where she hopes to learn to be a speech therapist. She stated, "I'm very interested in speech because I like to talk to people and make speeches. She added, "I'm excited about going to college and a little afraid too, but I won't worry until graduation."

Playing the piano, sewing her own clothes, tennis, and strangely enough, hunting for birds take up most of Shari's spare time. She is also an active member of the Richland Lutheran Church where she is the Treasurer of the Mid-Columbia Conference.

In conclusion, Shari stated, "I'm just a person running around, jumping in and out of places."

It has been asked by Mr. Maruca that any student having the following articles should please bring them to room 320 at any time during the day Friday, January 26, 1968: Flypaper, oilcloth, 60 and 75 watt light bulbs (good), toilet paper, size 36 "long johns," a pair of old socks with the toes out, brown paper bags (new or used), a Pig-Latin dictionary, or empty glass gallon jugs are needed.

spirit of '68 disappears

The year 1968 has arrived but where has the "Spirit of '68" gone? Early in the football season, spirit was almost as high as possible. Now, there appears to be practically nothing.

The cheerleaders are discouraged because no one follows the cheers. Team work applies to more than the five Bombers on the court. The crowd expects the team to play as a unit, but isn't it time that everyone yell as a unit, no matter who starts the yell—be it Seniors and their "go-go-go" of the cheerleaders and their routines?

At Moses Lake the Bomber score was in danger and the Senior male section started "go-go-go." The sound was deafening and the Bombers came through.

Where was the necessary "go-go-go" when the Bombers came to within one point at the Eisenhower game? It was drowned by half the crowd yelling some fancy chant.

The Bomber fans have always been known for their fantastic cheering section and backing, but no one can honestly say that the Bomber fans stood up to the laurels that have been bestowed in the past.

One strong point must be remembered. We are yelling for the Bombers and not against the other yell squad. We did not have as many people as Eisenhower, but must that discourage yelling?

The most crucial games lie ahead. How far the Bombers go may well be determined by how well they are supported. Remember this tonight and in the future as the road gets harder and harder.

J. B. BOMBER

For you students mature enough to take in that fabulously dull movie "Valley of the Dolls," we're sure that you were impressed by the excellent acting of RHS grad, Sharon Tate, she busted up the audience in every scene she played. In her role as Jennifer, she died 2/3 of the way through the script and the whole movie seemed to go flat after that. We hope to see more of Miss Tate in her next movie; if that's at all possible.

After the Bomber's dropped a close one to Eisenhower last weekend, several Ike fans found themselves dropped. The ardent RHS rooters were escorted out of the gym with taunts and jeers. We abhor such actions by either party but under such provocation we cannot condemn any students engaged in after game discussions or debate, since they were only defending the name of their school.

Last week's "stupid council" brought up many controversial subjects, the dress code being the most widely debated. Rick "the elocutionist" Adrian felt, and we quote him exactly, "All students who do not abide by the dress code should have a parent-teacher confirmation." (—We're sorry, Rick, but the school system does not allow religion to be practiced in the schools—J. J. Note).

Gary Ellingson went one better on Rick when he stated, "If there wasn't a dress code we wouldn't have to wear clothes!" (—We're sorry, Gary, but nature worship is regarded as a religion, therefore it is out—J. J. Note).

Mr. Lyda topped everybody when he said, "I think this meeting is running overtime so I think you should adjourn."

Col-Hi Rooters Jeopardize Bombers Trip To Spokane

By Andy Michels

At the last few basketball games a group of students has created a dangerous situation. This is the passing of some of the smaller students around. It is somewhat of a tradition that started at the football games and has now spread to basketball. This passing of students is in direct violation of the student spectator code. Such violations could result in the removal of one's ASB card.

Rowdiness Gives Bad Image

If the games are that boring that the spectators cannot sit and watch the game, then they should leave. This rowdiness gives the whole student body a bad image in the minds of those adults who attend the games.

Paper Airplanes Hazards

Another problem which is more serious than the first is that of the paper airplanes. The students making these planes get a big thrill out of trying to hit the floor with their airborne projectiles. If a player stepped on one of these and fell, it could cause an injury.

Conduct Can Suspend Sports

The administration feels that the students should solve their own problems. It is easier to solve our own problems than to suffer the removal of ASB cards. Any time the student conduct or any spectator conduct gets far out of hand the YVIAA has the authority to suspend the interscholastic activities of that school. There is no sense in jeopardizing our trip to Spokane and the possible trip to Seattle by such foolishness.

CAR STOLEN FROM MRS. TOMBROPOLOUS

A car, being of considerable poundage and mass, and having distinguishing personal features such as license plates, etc., is not the easiest commodity in the world to lose. Mrs. Tombropolous, Contemporary World History teacher at Col-Hi, managed to inadvertently have her vehicle stolen during Christmas vacation.

Mrs. Tombropolous went to Berkeley, California, during the holidays to frolic in the California sunshine, but it didn't turn out that way.

Having locked the car, she and her husband set off to make merry and enjoy the sights. After awhile it was decided that that was enough excitement for one day and promptly returned to where the car wasn't parked anymore. Mr. Tombropolous simultaneously remarked that she probably forgot where she did park it. The Mrs. related in no uncertain terms that she had parked it at the same spot, so they beat it to the Police Dept. to report a theft.

Once there the Berkeley P.D. efficiently took over, informed them that there was a 50% chance of them never seeing their car again and gave them a ride back to where they were staying.

When Mrs. T. made an inquest to a passing officer about it a few days later it was discovered that it wasn't even on the missing cars list yet.

After a few more days, however, it turned up in Chico, Calif., 120 miles away.

"There were more valuable items in the car than the car was worth," said Mrs. Tombropolous, "but the only things missing were a pair of mis-matched gloves and two pipe; but after seeing how difficult it was to get to Chico I can see how they would just take it for the transportation."

St. Agnes' Eve Coming Jan. 20

January 20th is the night, girls . . . the Eve of Saint Agnes. Eat no supper, observe the "proper rituals," and retire early, stopping to look neither beside or behind you; the result, according to the ancient legend, will be a dream in which you will catch a glimpse of your future husband!

The story dates back to 300 A.D. when the young virgin Agnes was martyred, and January 21st was set aside as the day to honor her. John Keats set the story in a "Romeo-Juliet" style of moving, vivid poetry, currently being studied by the Senior literature classes, and the legend is preserved today.

Two seniors, who are involved in student government, are Ginny Burger and Dave Barber.

Ginny Burger, ASB assemblies co-manager, has found that the job is not as easy as it may appear to be. Trying to make up good skits "isn't all that boss" according to Ginny, and "it's bad when they don't go over at the assemblies." She likes planning assemblies, however, and being involved in student government.

Pep Club, Drill Team, Girl's League, and Student Council are some of Ginny's other activities. She was also Junior Class Secretary last year, and a delegate to Girl's State last summer. However, she was not able to attend Girl's State because of a sudden attack of glandular fever.

One of Ginny's major interests is sports. She says that she always has been "kind of a tom-boy" and that she especially likes snow-skiing and swimming, and watching basketball games.

office. There will be no charge. A certificate will be presented to each girl completing the five sessions. If there is enough demand, a second clinic will be scheduled.

This new Altrusa venture augments another project which Altrusa has sponsored for quite a few years, the "Girl of the Month" which honors one senior girl per month and names one of these as the outstanding "Girl of the Year," giving her a scholarship of her choice.

This year Mary Hettinger, Karen Burns, Vicki Sedlacek, and Connie Simons have been chosen as "Girls of the Month." Each interested senior girl may send an application for consideration to Mrs. W. A. Haney, 2137 Enterprise.

Representatives of local businesses will outline "Do and Don'ts" for job applicants who will be looking for summer employment. Instructions will be given in some skills, such as cash register operation, and in the development of professional appearance and manners.

The clinic will meet for two hours on five consecutive Tuesdays starting at 7 p.m., January 23. Interested senior girls may sign up in the Col-Hi counselors' office.

The Richland Teen Canteen is open for every Col-Hi student. A membership is not required but the "Hut" needs money to operate with.

The city of Richland pays for heat, electricity, and the building. It is not school property and the Teen Canteen had to obtain approval from the city council to operate the facilities.

There is more to operating the building, however. There is the cost of liability insurance, kitchen licenses, and kitchen maintenance.

The Kiwanis became the sponsors after many people showed a sincere interest in the Teen Canteen. Many hours of hard work went into the Hut to make it "liveable." There are 45 pounds of spackle on the walls and 18 gallons of paint on the inside.

Donations of tables, chairs, games, and a juke box have added to the enjoyment of the Teen Canteen.

A kitchen is also operated and adds greatly. The Hut has become a place where students can get away from school, listen to music, and talk. It is also warm during the winter months and is air conditioned when spring comes.

The Hut sold tiles for 15¢ to people and it is hoped that they will be laid soon. Carpeting is also being put down on some sections.

The Canteen needs many more improvements and is organizing now. Only members may set the policy for hours, food, improvements, and other items of business, but memberships are only 50¢.

The Hut is open daily from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. for modular scheduling. At least 50 to 100 people drop in each day, especially at lunch. Join them soon!

PERSONAL FOULS

Of Interest To Females

By Bill Portch

It has been brought to the attention of myself that the more feminine followers of basketball have problems in interpreting the sport talk and "stats" of this page. With this in mind, PERSONAL FOULS will attempt to explain the idiosyncrasies of the athletic cult.

To begin with, "stats" is short for statistics.

Next, a typical set of statistics will be analyzed. In the example of stats shown here, the persevering female will find the five small letters which has created the foundation of the weaker sex's syndrome (attention: Mr. Carroll). Deep traumatic scars have been gouged by the psychomatic tendencies of said inferior group in that they could not fathom that g stands for field goals (the two-point type of basket), f stands for free throws (the one point type of basket), p stands for personal fouls (no pun intended) upon the player's self, and that tp stands for total points scored by the player.

WRESTLERS DOWNED BY DAVIS, PASCO

The Bomber grapplers dropped their last two matches with the Pasco Bulldogs downing the Bombers 31 to 16 and the Walla Walla Blue Devils winning by the slim margin of 28-22 last Wednesday.

Sharp Stars

Sophomore Loren Sharp registered two pins in the 129 pound class. Sharp slapped the pin on WW's Stein and Pasco's Russ Cazler. Coach Pritchett thinks Sharp has an excellent chance to make the trip to the state finals. Kennewick's McFadden, who is the state champ, should give Sharp a good match when they meet next Thursday at Kennewick.

Pasco Match

Pasco trailed 16-13 but came back with four wins, including three pins, to take the match. Gregory and Hoeger both decided their men to up their season records to 3-0.

The JV also lost in spite of pins by Faubion, Pittman, and Stifner. Pasco won most of the matches by forfeit for the 28-24 total.

Walla Walla Match

Walla Walla's pin in the last match proved to be the decisive blow in the 28-22 defeat. Sharp and Pitman won by pins with Pitman getting his in the last eight seconds. The JV lost 34-18, again the forfeits being the deciding factor.

Bombers Attempt To Snap Wa-Hi Home Wins Tonight

The Richland Bombers will be out to get back on the winning path this weekend as they tackle the Walla Walla Blue Devils in Walla Walla tonight and tangle with the Wenatchee Panthers in the Bomber Gym on Saturday.

Richland suffered its first defeat of the season last Friday night at the hands of the Eisenhower Cadets, 62-59.

Walla Walla has no exceptionally big men, but what they lack in height, they more than make up for in speed and scrap. The Blue Devils are 7-1 on the season and are currently tied with Eisenhower for the top spot in the Big Eight League.

Leading the Wa-Hi attack is Junior speedster Mike Murr. Murr is averaging close to 14 points per game and has been the floor leader for the Devils all season.

The home court advantage could play a major part in determining the outcome of tonight's game. The Bombers have not won a game (either JV or Varsity) on the Walla Walla floor in two years, despite being favored to win in each case.

Wenatchee's Panthers sport more height than the Blue Devils, but this has apparently been no great help in winning as the "Apple Country" boys hold a modest 3-3 win-loss record for this season.

Balanced scoring has been the trademark of the Panthers this year, led by John Mills with an 11.2 average. Ken Rosendahl also averages 11.0 and the other three starters average 10.6, 10.0, and 9.3 points per game, respectively.

Last year's Big Eight Champion Bombers whipped the Panthers twice, 82-42, and 72-55.

Coach Art Dawald's Bombers have been beset by the Asian flu this week, but barring any more illness than has already struck, they should be in pretty good shape for this weekend's games.

Out with "the bug" the first part of this week were Bob Utecht, Mike Harty, Jim Albaugh, Bill Heriford, Rennie Rathbun, and Pat Henniger. However, most of these cagers have made speedy recoveries and should be ready to see action tonight.
