Musicians Chosen For All-State

The students who will represent Col-Hi in All-State Band, Orchestra, and Chorus were recently announced. Tom Degan, Col-Hi's drum major, who plays first trombone is Col-Hi's sole representative to All-State Band.

There are several representatives to All-State Orchestra; they are Carol Parkhurst, and Hope Underwood, who both play the violin, and Mary Jane Cross, who plays the viola.

The Col-Hi members of the All-State Chorus are Pete Harmon, Steve Muller, Mary Hettinger, Carol Rediske, and Mike Furner.

This large representation reflects extremely well on Col-Hi, for all-state positions are very hard to get. To be considered for all-state positions, the students must submit an application as well as a recommendation from their director.

Students from all over the state apply for this honor, and there are many more who apply than can be accepted. In the case of All-State Band, approximately 600 students tried out to fill 200 positions.

Mr. Boatman, Band Director, stated, "I feel it is a great honor to have one of our students accepted in this extremely competitive position."

The students chosen will leave for Seattle on March 17. They will perform before the National Music Educators' Conference, as well as the general public on March 19.

After All-State, the participating students will each receive a recording of the performance, as well as a gold pin and a certificate of achievement. The orchestra will be directed by Mr. Hoffman. Carol Parkhurst, who played under him last year, said, "I've played under Hoffman before, and he is really fabulous."

All the Col-Hi members of the All-State Band and Orchestra belong to the Mid-Columbia Symphony. They are also good scholars, as well as excellent musicians. Mr. Boatman stated, "I feel it is a real honor to be accepted to something like this; these kids are good or they wouldn't be going, and we're very proud of them."

Parking Lot Has Problems

By Bob Avant

A minority of students at Col-Hi have finally shown that the majority does not always rule.

A few students have been parking improperly in the Junior and Senior parking lots even after repeated warnings by the administration. They have forced the school officials to take decisive measure to comply with the city laws.

The students who have been parking in "off-limits" areas are breaking the law. City ordinances require that firelanes, service lanes, and islands with fire plugs on them be kept clear. In case of fire or an accident the insurance companies would not be liable for damages if the fire lanes are blocked.

Mr. Edgar Haag, Col-Hi principal, said that he felt students seem incapable of taking care of the situation themselves, so the school administrators would do something to curb this dangerous situation.

Mr. Haag said, "We have no means, except all day supervision to keep people off the firelanes."

Since this plan would be next to impossible, Mr. Haag has decided to allow the city police to come into the parking lot and issue tickets for improperly parked cars. Mr. Haag also stated that he would sign complaints against students who park on the grass.

Let's hope that the issuing of tickets and the signing of complaints will not be needed. Maybe the students can show some of their own initiative.

MR. AND MRS. DAWALD pose with six of their seven "daughters" they will be chaperoning this summer in Europe. They are Pam Macki, Paula Vinther, Lynn Spink, Linda Carey, Ann Sheppard, and Margaret Jaske. Mary Evans from Kennewick is also making the trip.

Columbia High Students To Study In Europe

Eagerly awaiting their trip to France this summer are six Col-Hi students.

Paula Vinther, Pam Macki, Ann Sheppard, Linda Carey, Lynn Spink, Margaret Jaske, and Mary Evans (Kennewick), will be among the one hundred eighty-three people who plan to fly to Paris to study the language and see the sights.

American instructors and chaperones will be accompanying the students. Vacant boarding houses will be the lodging, and the European staffs of the boarding houses will remain to serve the students this summer.

These students, who are all in their 3rd and 4th year of French, will be spending three weeks in Paris, and three weeks in Leysin, Switzerland, which is set high in the Alps overlooking Lake Gen-

Studying French will occupy only three hours of each morning. In the afternoon tours will be taken of the sights within walking distance. While they are in Paris, excursions will go to such famous sights as the Eiffel Tower, the Arc de Triomphe, the Palace of Fontainebleau, the Etoile, and the Place de la Concorde. They will also visit Montmartre, which is the center of Paris night life; Les Invalides, which is one of the finest architectural buildings of Paris; and the Latin Quarter, which is characterized by its narrow streets; exotic restaurants, cafes and bookshops.

The summer students to France will complete their trip when they return on the Holland-America ship S.S. Maasdam, which will land in Montreal.

Richland To Have Two High Schools By 1970

With the passage of the $1.7 million bond issue last Tuesday, Richlanders voted to construct a second high school in Richland as part of the K - 12 complex.

The complex will include 600 high school students and 1200 younger children according to Supt. Sam Clark, who met today with architects to discuss plans for the school. Construction will start in 1969.

AEC Funds

The bonds were passed 3,669 - 1,691, or 68 per cent of the vote favorable. With the passage, the school district qualifies for $5.6 million in Atomic Energy Commission funds and $350,000 in state aid.

The 24-mill special levy was also passed Tuesday. It was approved by a vote of 3,782 - 1,589, a 70 per cent yes vote.

Pay Increase

This money will be used for the maintenance and operation of the district, and will give our teachers an average 5 per cent pay raise.

Some Richland High students, including Key Club, worked for the passage of the second high school and the levy by passing out pamphlets and other literature.

Tolo Activities Set

By Anne Frey

The week of February 24th-29th is fast approaching, and so are the girls, boys! Tolo Week, the traditional week when men reign supreme, is coming again, and if you girls haven't embarrassed a guy with an invitation yet—now's the time.

Colors this year are racy red, sexy silver, and barely black. Tolo Royalty will have the privilege of reigning throughout the whole week.

Activities begin on Monday, when everyone should wear their racy red clothes symbolizing the start of Tolo. The annual Tolo Assembly will also be presented on Monday, and that first big day will wind up with all the girls feeding their dates pizza for "Pizza Night."

Tuesday marks the ever-popular "Pool Night." A mixer is Wednesday night's plan. However, the performing band has not yet been decided. Prices will remain the same, and the dance will be open from 9:00 til 11:30 p.m.

Thursday is "Bowling Day," and remember, girls, it's Tolo—so let them win this time. The time is 3:00 to 5:30, and prices are 15c for shoe rentals and 45c per game.

Friday's exciting game followed by a scintillating show comprise the next-to-last go-for-broke night.

Winding up a memorable week, is Saturday's "Decorations Day" (all willing hands appreciated). Of course, no Tolo Week would be complete without a formal dance, so from 9:00-12:00 p.m. Saturday night, for a token fee, one may enjoy the romantic atmosphere of the decorators' work. The perfect ending to the perfect week.

spectator code violated

Many people have been justifiably concerned about the problem of spectator conduct at basketball games, both home and away. It is a well-known fact that much trouble occurred after the encounter with Pasco.

An interview with Mr. Haag disclosed that there were five policemen on duty at the away Pasco game, but that they were inside expecting trouble in the gym and foyer area. Almost all of the trouble occurred in the parking lots and surrounding grounds. Pasco's own student body officers tried to stop much of the fighting.

"The reputation of being a repeated victor easily draws unjustified criticism," said Mr. Haag. Any actions are more noticeable for the victor than others. It appears that a winning team also has to carry a poor reputation.

According to Mr. Haag, Pasco High Principal, Mr. Gregson, is very concerned with the Richland-Pasco problem. Richland will have additional policemen on duty the night they play Pasco here—a week from tonight, Friday, February 16.

Mr. Haag, in conclusion, stated, "I hope that the best behavior will be shown by Richland students and that any questionable actions from the past be laid aside. The game will be hot enough." Richland students attempt, for the most part, to follow the Student Spectator Code.

However, one question is raised when teams play Pasco: The YVIAA Student Spectator Code reads "1. Artificial noise makers such as drums, air horns, whistles, megaphones used in a negative manner, duck calls, bicycle horns, Halloween noise makers, or any device that artificially make a distracting noise are not permitted at games." Isn't a fire bell rung at intervals throughout the game considered a distracting noise maker? If there are rules, it is time to start enforcing them at all YVIAA conference schools. Richland should not be the only school that adheres to them.

Cigarette Consumption On Rise Despite The Evils Of Smoking

By Joyce Gray

Today's young adults have been exposed to more news articles on the evils of smoking than any past generation has been. However, the U.S. Agriculture Department reported recently that cigarette consumption in 1968 is expected to break the record of 552 billion cigarettes smoked by Americans in 1967. This usage is eleven billion more than the record set in 1966.

Obviously, the campaign against smoking is not effective. The warnings of the Report of the Advisory Committee to the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service have largely gone unheeded by the public. Yet this report states: "The use of tobacco, especially cigarette smoking, has been casually linked to several diseases. Such use has been associated with increased deaths from lung cancer and other diseases, notably coronary artery disease, chronic bronchitis, and emphysema."

Perhaps the lack of realistic thinking and imagination on the part of people is why they are indifferent to these facts. It is human nature to say, "Oh, that could never happen to me."

To impress teenagers of the serious consequences sometimes caused by smoking, examples could be made of people who have fought battles against smoking-related diseases. More students should have a chance to see a black, disease-ridden lung. They also might benefit from the example of the shoe store owner who breathes through a hole at the base of his throat, called a stoma; or the real estate agent who was put permanently "out of commission" when his vocal cords were cut away.

Eckhardt Wins Talent Show

Judi Eckhardt should be very happy this year. Besides reigning as 1968 Tri-Cities Jr. Miss, she has also taken home top honors and $25, at Col-Hi's latest talent show. Judi won by singing "Happy Talk" while being accompanied by Steve Muller.

Second place and $15 went to Steve Carver for doing pop tune improvisations. Jodi Williams took third place and $10 for baton twirling.

There was a tie for fourth place between Michelle Vespier, who played classical piano, and a group of senior girls, doing classical ballet. Both parties won $5.

J. J. Bourgeois

By Jim Albaugh

Well folks, we're sorry that J. J. Bourgeois did not appear in last week's issue of SANDSTORM and we're sorry that it will not appear in its entirety this week.

You see, lately we've been plagued by censorship problems in our fight to dramatize student life as it really exists.

If you wish to see this humorous and controversial column continue in the future we would appreciate letters of praise for J. J. Bourgeois from our more enlightened readers.

Thank You

RICK VALENTINE and Bruce Jorgensen produce many pictures for both SANDSTORM and COLUMBIAN, each day.

Shutterbirds Work Hard

A familiar sight at pep assemblies is a couple of seniors lugging cameras around looking for the best angle. This action is almost invariably followed by a lightning flash, and then the photographers are going again looking for another angle or pose.

Bruce Jorgensen and Rick Valentine, both seniors at Col-Hi, are the Photographers for COLUMBIAN and SANDSTORM. They take and develop along with Steve Gulley and Eli Smith, both juniors) all the pictures for both publications, with the exception of developing color film.

The school darkroom is equipped with several thousand dollars worth of apparatus and supplies, including five cameras and three enlargers, which both Rick and Bruce use.

The work, however, isn't as easy as it may seem. Both the photographers spend, on the average, about two to three hours after school each night, and much longer when deadlines for COLUMBIAN and SANDSTORM are due. To quote Rick, "We're overworked and under-paid." They took over 3,600 shots last semester.

To avoid confusion, printed requests are required before a picture can be taken, and contact sheets of all the pictures taken are catalogued in a notebook for future reference.

Bruce and Rick take the pictures at games and other school activities, ads for SANDSTORM, and have even taken passport pictures for the American Field Service.

Although Rick is undecided, Bruce says that he will continue photography as a hobby in college.

MIKE CUMMIN'S '56 Chevy is a good example of a "sharp" looking "Panel." Other examples can be found parked on the lots here at RHS.

Heap of the Week

Lately it seems that the Chevy "Panel" has become a popular machine around Col-Hi. "Panels" can be seen in many original and unique designs, which usually require a certain amount of body work. Transforming a panel type station wagon into a "going" machine is a big project for one to tackle. One of the "hottest" Panels on campus is owned by student Mike Cummins.

Under the hood . . .

Mike's '56 Chev is powered by a 283 cubic inch mill, which is equipped with "Mickey Thompson" pistons and "solids." To give added pickup Mike's engine has a 270 horsepower fueler cam and an AFB four-barrel carb.

All of this power equipment is linked to a three-speed tranny and delivered by a Hurst Shift. Along with the usual gauges Mike's dashboard is equipped with a Sunn Tach which is there to help Mike check out the per-

Sue Szendre

About a foot and half marks the difference in height between Sue Szendre and Mark Painter, but they are a lot alike when it comes to involvement in school activities.

Sue's list of activities includes Student Council, Senior Planning Council and Girls' League. She is also ASB Elections Co-Manager, Advertising Manager for SANDSTORM, and Secretary of the Teen Canteen. Organizing activities and projects is a favorite hobby of Sue's, which can be seen in her work on ASB elections. She is looking forward to the coming cheer and song leader elections and student body officer elections, which are sure to offer a lot of work for her and her co-manager, Kerry Sullivan.

Sue enjoys sewing and cooking in her spare time, and she also often takes walks just for the fun of it. Swimming is her sport when it comes participating, but she says "I love watching basketball, and baseball, too."

Sue plans to attend either CBC or Central Washington State College after graduating, and she will probably major in either journalism or home economics.

Mark spends his spare time playing cards with the boys or "bombing around" in his green '51 Plymouth, also known as the "Green Hornet." Mark claims that his car has a great history and "runs like a charm." He took it to California and back last summer and he drives it to all the out-of-town basketball games.

On the exterior of this blue Chevy are a number of important styling features including; side-windows which have been tinted, (blue, of course). For maximum traction, Mike has recently added a set of 9 inch slicks, mounted on chrome reverse wheels. Keystone "mags" adorn the front wheels and help to add to the car's appearance.

Future Plans

In the near future Mike hopes to put in a four-speed transmission and 4:56 rear end.

PERSONAL FOULS

By Bill "Bradley" Portch

For the first time in three years the Richland-Walla Walla return-match grudge game will be played in Richland. Previously, the Bombers have seen Conference title hopes curdled by losing at Walla Walla near the end of the season, but this year the tables are turned. The Blue Devils, formerly undefeated in league action, will lose their third straight and have hopes stomped for their first Conference crown since entering the league in 1964 . . . Although Blue Devil Coach Bill Beiloh retains the services of Mike Murr, Randy Johnson is a questionable starter because of flu. Last week Coach Beiloh complained that "it isn't fair" to have his players out with the flu. Richland, Pasco, and Davis have all had star players out this season, but you didn't hear them crying about it . . . Speaking of the game tonight, anyone care to guess how many adults will be sitting in the student section? Naturally, after they have nabbed a seat "students may not tell them to leave," according to the Administration. If an ASB card could be compared to a season reserved seat ticket, does that mean that students cannot be kicked out of the reserved section once they have been seated? Why don't you try it and see.

So far this year, the rest of the SANDSTORM staff and I have been greatly disappointed at the lack of letters to the editors. As of this issue, there have been only two—one by Virginia Williams, the other by Prudence Dogooder. Neither was written to the sports staff.

In view of this apathy towards voiced public opinion, I extend a personal plea to anyone who cares to comment and/or gripe on any subject connected to sports. Be the topic profanity in girls' P.E. or the Midnight Timing Assn., any letter will be appreciated, and will be printed if possible.

Matmen Tie Walla Walla

The Richland wrestlers grappled their way to a win and a tie in last weekend's prep mat action in a quadrangular meet at Walla Walla.

Coach Bob Pritchett's Bombers rolled over LaGrande, but had to settle for a tie with the Walla Walla Blue Devils, despite having to forfeit the first match with the Devils, giving away three points to start with.

Sharp Unbeaten

Super Sophomore Loren Sharp maintained his winning ways as he breezed to a 7-1 decision over Ron Osterloh of LaGrande. The victory marked the twelfth straight for Sharp in his first year as a high-school wrestler.

Bombers Regain First Place; Blue Devil Rematch Tonight

Tonight the Richland Bombers will get a chance to revenge their 56-67 defeat and crack open the conference as they tangle with the Walla Walla Blue Devils at the Bomber Coliseum.

The Blue Devils ran into some tough action last weekend as they lost to both Pasco and Davis. This left the league knotted in a three-way tie for first place. Walla Walla, Pasco, and Richland all have 7-2 records. Walla Walla could only manage to score 14 points in the first half as Mike Murr failed to hit. Pasco had only 16. WW closed the gap to 3 in the last minute but it wasn't enough as Pasco won 50-47.

WW also lost to Davis 74-67. This time the Blue Devils were in the game, but only had two men in double figures. The two losses should drop Walla Walla from the AA poll, where they were ranked third.

Wenatchee gets another chance at the Bombers Saturday. They split last weekend; beating Davis 75-62 and losing to Pasco 62-49. Earlier this year the Bombers defeated the Panthers 79-53.

Last Friday the Bombers edged past the Kennewick Lions 86-74 in a game that was closer than most expected. George Kinney lead the Bombers in shots and points as he gunned in 23 big ones. Four other Bombers were in double figures including Jim Albaugh, who netted 16 in the second half and Bill Henniger who had 13.

with 11 in the last quarter. Kennewick's Blodgett led the overall scoring with 25.

Saturday the Bombers trounced the Eisenhower Cadets to regain some of the pride they lost at Yakima earlier this year.

Kinney had his second big night pumping for 15. Nickola led the scoring with 17 followed by Utecht, Henniger, and Albaugh in double figures.

BESIDES scoring 19 points against Kennewick Friday, Jim Albaugh displayed his other skills in finding Pat Henniger's contact.
